The desktop version of the login page features a large background image of a library interior. The login form is centered and includes a header with the library's name and logo. Below the header, there is a section for entering the username, password, and a verification code. A large orange circle with the number '3' is overlaid on the password and verification code fields. At the bottom of the form, there is a large orange '登入' (Login) button. Below the button, there is a link to '若無法聽到語音，請按語音播放' (If you cannot hear the audio, please click audio playback). At the very bottom, there is a footer with the text 'System Designed by Hyweb Technology Co., Ltd. ©2020 All Rights Reserved' and a language selector set to '中文 CH'.

The mobile version of the login page is displayed within a browser window. The layout is optimized for a smaller screen, with the login form taking up most of the space. The header and footer are simplified. The login form includes fields for username, password, and a verification code. A large orange circle with the number '3' is overlaid on the password and verification code fields. At the bottom of the form, there is a large orange '登入' (Login) button. Below the button, there is a link to '若無法聽到語音，請按語音播放' (If you cannot hear the audio, please click audio playback).
